Youth in Technology Incubator is a new program that uses technology, arts and media to promote your stories, message, creativity and skills.

You'll see future camps featuring social media influencers, artists, filmmakers, and more!

Skill development will include artistic style, social media marketing, website design, storytelling, writing, and more.

Ultimately, YTI is all about giving you skills to develop your voice and be an advocate for yourself & your community.

We want to help you shape your ideas, tell your story and be community advocates.
